About International Society for Pharmacoeconomics and Outcomes Research (ISPOR)

ISPOR was established in 1995 by a small group of dedicated volunteers and visionaries with the goal of serving as a catalyst to advance the science and practice of health economics and outcomes research (HEOR) around the world. The Society was originally known as the Association for Pharmacoeconomics and Outcomes Research (APOR) and led by its founding Executive Director, Marilyn Dix Smith, PhD. As the field of HEOR has grown, so has ISPOR. The Society's membership has expanded from just 240 members at its founding to nearly 18,000 individual and chapter members from more than 100 countries worldwide. As a multistakeholder organization, the Society's membership includes various healthcare stakeholders, including researchers and academicians, assessors and regulators, payers and policy makers, the life sciences industry, healthcare providers, and patient engagement organizations.

International Society for Pharmacoeconomics and Outcomes Research (ISPOR) - India, Andhra Pradesh Chapter

The ISPOR - India, Andhra Pradesh Regional Chapter was officially approved and established on June 14, 2012, under the leadership of Dr. Y. Padmanabha Reddy, who serves as the President of the ISPOR India AP Regional Chapter. The Chapter is dedicated to the development of a new paradigm in pharmacy practice education, transitioning from a traditional curriculum-based approach to a comprehensive healthcare orientation focused on health outcomes. This initiative aims to enhance the patient's quality of life and promote the rational use of medications. Over the course of 11 years, the Chapter has successfully organized three international conferences and eleven national conferences, receiving commendation from various professional bodies within the pharmacy sector and ISPOR. The branch consistently strives for innovative contributions to the evidence-based learning, teaching, practice, and research within the pharmacy profession, adhering to global standards.

About the Conference

The Fourth International Health Economics and Outcomes Research Conference represents a distinguished forum aimed at examining the significance of real-world data (RWD), patient-centred research, and regulatory advancements in influencing healthcare decisions, policies, and innovations within India. This esteemed event will convene healthcare professionals, researchers, industry leaders, and policymakers to deliberate on the most recent advancements in real-world evidence (RWE), its implications for the Indian healthcare system, and the potential for digital transformation.
